

PRODUCTION AND OUTREACH

Several members of the BHS jazz ensemble get their groove on in the studio

Beverly High School media students produced some seasonal promotional pieces including one for the Winter Concert. They continue to generate more and more programming for Channel 22.

Enhancing Christmas spirit around the school, Mrs. Pilanen's choral group performed seasonal favorites in the main entrance hallway. The event was taped by media students and aired on BevCam.

The choral group's performance is taped by BHS media students

Cathy Yaffa interviews interim school superintendent Dr. Al Argenziano

Cathy Yaffa has begun producing a new series called "School Spotlight". The show intends to highlight Beverly school educators and feature programs and education initiatives in the district. Good luck to former teacher Cathy.

As usual for the past 10 years or so, BevCam cameras, crew and staff were set up on Cabot Street in front of Beverly City Hall to broadcast live the annual Holiday parade. Thanks to Al Temkin and Tina Cassidy, who again acted as hosts. And thanks to volunteers Fred Surowiec, Brian Thompson, and Mark Layman.

New producer and volunteer Fred Surowiec focuses his camera before the parade

The Beverly High School winter concert gets more popular every year. Performances by the Choral Group under Carolyn Pilanen and the Jazz orchestra under Adam Costa highlighted the event. Thanks to BevCam volunteers Mark Layman and Brian Thompson for assistance in the production.

The BHS choral group performs to a full house during the annual Winter Concert.

Walt met with Mary Barthelmas of the Wenham Museum in preparation for a show featuring the museum's exhibits.

BevCam bid adieu to our fall Endicott College intern, Lauren Magliotti, during the annual staff Christmas lunch at Not Your average Joes.

On a very positive note, our membership peaked to an all-time high of 259 during the past year.