

BevCam Executive Director's Report
For the Month of February 2016

PRODUCTION AND OUTREACH

Cast, crew and volunteers after taping the 100th "Livin' the Good Life" show

On February 2nd, the Beverly Council on Aging made history by taping the 100th show in its "Livin' the Good Life" series. The show featured reminiscences by Al Torsey, Delores Gray and Bob Hobbs. A special cake found its way into the studio.

Over the last 10 years or so, BevCam has been a member of the Beverly Community Council. We regularly attend the monthly meetings, which are a great place to outreach with many of the non-profit organizations in the area.

The February 11th meeting of the Beverly Community Council was held in the Library

John Maihos on the set with Ann Krantz discussing gun safety issues

On February 1st, John Maihos taped another "Kiwaniis Conversations" show. His guest was Ann Krantz of "Moms Demand Action for Gun Sense" who spoke on the topic of gun safety in the home.

BevCam was on hand along with a packed crowd at the Danversport Yacht Club on February 10, as the Greater Beverly Chamber of Commerce presented its annual Business Awards.

A packed house attended the annual Greater Beverly Chamber business awards banquet

Sandra Lawson and her guest Laura Eisener talk about garden landscaping

Sandra Lawson taped another “Get Your Garden Growing” show on February 17. Her guest was Laura Eisener, who has her own landscape design company. With spring fast approaching they discussed garden design planning.

On February 19, Executive Director Walt Kosmowski donated blood at a Red Cross blood drive held at the Waring School in Beverly. Video footage was taken to be used during an upcoming program on the Red Cross.

Jen Benton and Robbie Rowe as Count & Mrs Dracula attend the blood drive

Past show producer Dr. Jonathan Inz is interested in reviving his medical series show, “Triple Point.” Also, Sarah MacBurnie, a local realtor, came by to discuss a new show production.