

BevCam Executive Director's Report
For the Month of March 2017

PRODUCTION AND OUTREACH

On March 13, the Ditto Band was in the BevCam studio to tape a program. They played a number of their signature soft rock tunes...think James Taylor. The group is led by frontmen Roger Kimball and Gary Santarella.

The Ditto Band gets its soft rock groove on during a BevCam taping

On March 6, BevCam taped the “Best Chef” competition at the Danversport Yacht Club. After a year’s hiatus, the annual event, sponsored by Beverly Bootstraps, was back in full swing with a large crowd in attendance.

Mark Layman zooms in on the cooking action at the Best Chef event

Members of the City’s Human Rights Commission speak at the BCOA Forum

A large crowd was in attendance at the Beverly Council on Aging for a workshop/public comment session, sponsored by the Beverly Human Rights Commission, to discuss the City’s potential designation as a “sanctuary” City.

Brian Thompson directs the concert in the auditorium from BevCam's control room

The annual All-City concert was held in the BHS auditorium on March 28. With our recent technical innovation, we are now able to direct events taking place in the auditorium from the control room in our studio on the other side of the building.

BevCam board member Andi Freedman produced a special program taping a performance at the Larcom Theater by Jay Daly and his New England Brass ensemble. Andi's daughter Zahava was a guest soloist.

Jay Daly on the far right and his New England Brass on stage at the Larcom

Walt Kosmowski interviews Uma Khamraj, a winner at the Cinema Salem film festival

For the 9th year in a row, BevCam covered the Cinema Salem Student Documentary Film Competition. Winning entries were screened at the theater on March 4, and we got a chance to talk with the student producers.